Sweet and spicy nose with some woody notes, mocha, red and dark berries. The palate is well rounded with a supple texture, good freshness, raspberry and blackberry flavours, fresh and long finish, well balanced with good drinkability.

Medium deep, ruby. Attractive nose, lightly roasted with some new oak, sweet berries and spice. The palate is quite full with ripe fruit balanced by high level of freshness; young firm tannin and fairly long finish; slightly tight; should be aged for another year.

(Décembre 2013)

Le nez est joliment expressif sur des arômes de fruits rouges, de grillé, d'épices. La bouche est complexe, aromatique, avec une belle fraîcheur et un boisé élégant. Longue finale gourmande.

Gilbert et Gaillard

(2014)

Robe rouge vif, concentration moyenne. Nez où dominant des accents boisés torréfiés. Même constat en bouche où ce sont surtout les arômes de chêne qui s'expriment. Un style un peu exotique qui a ses amateurs. (dégusté le 18/12/2012).

Andreas Larsson, Tasted

(Mars 2016)

Medium deep ruby-red colour. Still with a slight youthful hint of purple at the core. Modern nose here, with some roasted oak. Quite ripe fruit. Mostly dark plum, dark cherry. Slight hint of leather, dried spices. Good grip on the palate. Quite concentrated fruit. Good density of fruit, good weight. I would say the texture is already fairly rounded. There is tannic grip but well-integrated right now. Still a quite youthful and fresh acidity. Oak feels less marked on the palate than on the nose. There are some hints of roasted coffee bean, hint of vanilla on the finish. Quite long and substantial finish. I would say, a modern style wine. That offers pleasure already, but it should easily have five to eight year, if not more potential for development
